

EUROAMERICAN COLLEGE

Our school year has got off to a very good start. Our youngest Nursery school children have settled down well and are happy. It was lovely to see so many parents at our first meeting on 17th March. Since then the school has been involved in many events.

Our Well Being Committee organized a week activities commencing on Monday 19th March with “Greetings and Free Hugs”. This was followed by a play, “La gran fiesta en La Colina” which highlighted the importance of inclusion and not exclusion. On Thursday, to celebrate the International Day of Water, we had a special assembly in order to remind the students of the importance of looking after this important resource and not wasting it. We ended the week with special integration games.

Also during this week I travelled to Singapore for the IB Heads Council Meeting as representative of the IB World Schools in Latin America. We had very interesting meetings where we were able to discuss various issues related to the International Baccalaureate from different global perspectives. I also attended the IB Global Conference and Heads Conference in which 1800 people participated. The theme of the conference was “Shaping the Future”. The first day focused on community, the second on innovation and the third on change.

There were three well renowned keynote speakers. The first was Pak Tee Ng, Associate Dean, Leadership Learning at the National Institute of Education. He has written several books and numerous journal articles. He spoke about the success of the education system in Singapore which is rated high on the Pisa scale. In his breakout session he explained the initiative of “teach less learn more” in Singapore and discussed in how schools leaders and teachers can lead and implement this idea in practice. You can learn more about Pak Tee Ng’s ideas by watching <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=lnuGwhlZJhI> .

The second was Rose Luckin of Learner Centred Design at UCL Knowledge Lab and Director of EDUCATE. Rose’s research involves the design and evaluation of educational technology using theories from the learning sciences and techniques from artificial intelligence (A1). She has a particular interest in how A1 can be used to enable more effective, continuous, formative assessment processes and tools that capture cognitive, social, emotional and metacognitive progression. The third was Meagan Fallone, CEO of Barefoot College International is an entrepreneur, a designer and a passionate mountaineer. Bringing these diverse talents together, she exemplifies exceptional vision and commitment to social leadership while advocating for strong professional practices within a social innovation context. Last Saturday, our Early Years teachers and psychologists hosted workshops for parents about differentiation, values and attitudes and lecto escritura. The parents who attended were happy and congratulated the school for its organization. We would like to congratulate the parents who participated actively in the workshops.
